Revenue AdvantageSM

We are facing a transformation in health care. Are you ready? Revenue advantage examines the whole of your operations, helping you become ADEPTSM at sustainable profitability. V2V finds opportunities for revenue enhancement, cost containment, business growth and development, improvements in contracting, as well as work flows and processes. The future of your organization depends on efficient, effective business operations. Your organization can achieve this. We will help.

Cost of Care Analysis. Value-based reimbursement models require your organization to quantify current baseline costs. V2V analyzes your organizational costs comparative to patient panel size, service volumes, and cost categories. We apply this data to detect inefficiencies in resource allocation, performance deficiencies, and to identify cost control opportunities. Our goal is to set the stage for conducting a cost-benefit analysis from the patient and/or payor perspective.

Physician Compensation. With the increased focus on value-based care, traditional compensation models are challenged to meet the needs of today's health care organization. No group is the same and, accordingly, no compensation plan should be the same. V2V identifies and calculates financial models to devise a plan that works best for your providers and your organization.

Revenue Cycle. A strong revenue cycle is essential for financial sustainability. We assess your work flows, staffing, internal controls, and payor contract performance. This identifies areas and opportunities for the greatest benefit to revenue cycle.

Financial Benchmarking & Gap Analysis. V2V's analysis compares key enterprise and provider performance indicators against industry standards and to peers within the organization. This helps develop a picture of where your organization is versus where it needs to be in the financial operations area.

Inventory Management. Efficient management of supply chain creates a direct link to improved financial performance. Our evaluation helps reduce waste and find better ways to manage your supplies, from pharmaceuticals to office supplies and more.

We focus on value, so you can focus on care.
